Description:

At home in holidays!
The leaves of the coconut tree stand for the tropics like no other in people's imagination. Now you can get a piece of tropical feeling in your own home with our coconut seedling. The incredibly delicate leaves won't tell the difference to the original ones on the beach and provide a relaxed atmosphere. Still, to arrange them they require a bit of space as the seedling reaches a height of 230cm altogether and therefore takes quite some room. But it's worth to create some space for a piece of heaven - "tree of heaven" is who the plant is called by many occupants in the tropics - as you can virtually enjoy a blighty leave. The only thing you have to imagine is the noise of the waves.
